(Washington, D.C., January 23, 2019) CxEnergy, the only conference and expo dedicated exclusively to building commissioning and energy management, announced today that Gresham, Smith and Partners will be a Gold Sponsor at the event. The company will also be an exhibitor (booth #301/303).

Gresham, Smith and Partners is a team of diligent designers, creative problem-solvers, insightful planners and seasoned collaborators who work closely with clients to improve the cities and towns we call home. The firm has more than 25 offices worldwide.

In addition to its exhibiting and sponsorship activities, Gresham, Smith and Partners will present on the topic of “Commonly Made Commissioning Mistakes.” This presentation will discuss how budget constraints often result in issues arising from the commissioning process. Since functional performance testing and final commissioning activities are last, they are the first cut. The result is often functional performance tests not completed, reports unfinalized, incorrect equipment operation and owners left holding the bag. The session offers best practices and practical advice for avoiding these problems.

Presenting for Gresham, Smith and Partners will be Steven Metzgar EMP, CxA and Jonathan Woodside PE.

CxEnergy 2019 is being held April 15-18 at the Caribe Royale Hotel in Orlando, FL. Attendees will earn AIA and other industry certification continuing education credits for presentations that include case studies and topics in water treatment planning for disease prevention, using data analytics for streamlining the commissioning process, cybersecurity for energy managers, implementing campus sustainability and energy plans, a variety of commissioning and energy management case studies, and more.
